Dear Hiring Manager,

I am a developer with experience in 3 full stacks and continually learning every day. Coding is my passion and I would love to put that passion into a long-term career with your company. With my skills and dedication, I feel that I could make a great addition to your team.

My responsibility, work ethics, and reliability make me a great candidate for this position. I take ownership of tasks quickly and put full efforts into everything I do. I am a great at multitasking and a very quick learner.

Additionally, I have expertise in:

- Collaboration, teamwork & communication as they are most important for company wide success
- Multitasking in various duties, time management, and dedication
- Always customer, company, project, and career oriented
- Efficient at learning any new skills or requirements quickly to keep up with demand

Joining your team would allow me to implement my skills and knowledge in a professional environment while providing stellar service to team members, the company, and clients.

Please take a moment to review my attached resume as I believe that I have the qualifications you need and look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Kevin Chancey
